Welcome to Panther Swamp National Wildlife Refuge

TR Complex Refuges are located south of State Highway 82 in the South Delta of Mississippi in what is known as the Lower Mississippi River Valley. The refuges are scattered from just south of Greenville, down towards Vicksburg, over to Yazoo City, and back up to Greenwood. The complex consists of seven refuges, Hillside, Holt Collier, Mathews Brake, Morgan Brake, Panther Swamp, Theodore Roosevelt and Yazoo National Wildlife Refuges. Established in 1978, Panther Swamp National Wildlife Refuge encompasses over 40,000 acres. Its expansive bottomland hardwood forests, cypress-tupelo sloughs, and meandering bayous represent some of the best remaining examples of the historically predominant habitat types that once characterized the entire Lower Mississippi River Valley. In addition to providing resting and feeding areas for over 100,000 wintering waterfowl annually, the refuge also provides habitat for 200 species of neotropical migratory songbirds. Resident species making their home among the woodlands, sloughs, and reforested areas include the American alligator, white-tailed deer, swamp rabbit, wild turkey, squirrel, and various small furbearers.
